EDITORIAL

AN OLD HINDU STORY

Six Hindu blind men were led to "see" an elephant. "Why, it's very like a wall", said the first man as he touched the side of the elephant. "It's very like a spear," said the second man as he stroked the elephant's tusk. And the third man taking the elephant's squirming trunk in hand said, "it's very like a snake!" "Nonsense!", the fourth man shouted. Stretching his arms around one of the legs, he concluded, "this wondrous beast is very like a tree". The fifth man touching the elephant's ear cried, "even the blindest can tell this animal is very like a fan." And the sixth, grabbing the tail, assured his friends that "the elephant is really like a rope".

The six friends each convinced of the "truth" quarreled, called names and parted bitterly.

Even something as obvious as the elephant becomes a very controversial subject only under a peculiar and unfortuate set of circumstances.

HOMES STILL NEEDED FOR FRESH AIR CHILDREN

The Kiwanis Club of Wareham take this opportunity to thank those in this area who have responded to their work of furnishing homes away from home for Fresh Air Children from New York.

They ask for the aid of others who wish to open their hearts and homes to further this worthy cause.

As previously states all responsibility is with the Kiwanis Club foundation so far as screening the children, insurance protection and entertainment for the guests. If it should be found that the child who comes into your home does not fit into your enviornment arrangements will immediately be made to place the youngster elsewhere.

Be a good neighbor and give a child a chance to enjoy the trees, grass, beaches and historic spots of America by calling George French, Wareham, CY 5-0821 or address a note to him at Onset, Mass., and arrange to take a guest July 6th or August 3rd for two weeks. You can't imagine the pleasure it will afford you to be a part of this undertaking.

It should be most apparent now that the opinions of the various factions on how Communism is best fought cannot, for many reasons, oddly enough one being our way of life, be reconciled.

There are those who truly and sincerely believe we must be alerted to the danger. Good, let these then alert us, but with truths.

There are those who believe the tactics, aims, perils of the enemy must be thoroughly studied. We need such a group.

There are those who feel strongly and honestly the need for outward demonstration of patriotism. They should continue to do so. We all need a demonstration of emotion in our lives. Who ever stays away from a parade?

There are those of us who, recognizing the privilege and blessing of parenthood and the home, try to build the moral fibre of our children to a degree that "agitators for evil" would have no fertile field.

There are those who strongly and rightly feel the need to give moral direction to our lives -- who, through their calling, can best serve by preaching the word of Truth, the Power of Love and Understanding. They must be allowed to do so freely and without "question of motive".

It is proper now that we become aware that respect of the other man's conviction is paramount and that no more time is lost in petty condemnations. With respect comes a great responsibility one to the other.

Thus, we must pool our efforts, as diversi-

DRIVE FOR NEW AMBULANCE

The replacement of our present ambulance by popular subscription is the responsibility of the Mattapoisett Ambulance Fund whose members are made up of volunteers from different organizations in town. Frank F. Sylvia is secretary; Anthony Roderick, treasurer and Alden S. Kinney, Chief of Police.

The fact the present vehicle needs replacing is not in doubt. The committee would like to see it replaced without placing the expense on the taxpayers at the annual town meeting. Therefore this call for help seems warranted.

Will you help this charitable non-profit undertaking with a donation by mailing same to Mattapoisett Ambulance Fund, Mattapoisett, Mass., Anthony Roderick, Treasurer.

Your generous support could possibly help you or a member of your immediate family in time of need, and from past experience will surely help many when the need is great for them.

Be a good neighbor and give.

PROMOTION EXERCISES HELD IN ROCHESTER

Twenty-nine pupils of Grade 8, Rochester Memorial School, held promotion exercises before a capacity audience of parents, relatives, friends and faculty members. This class has the distinction of being the last class to graduate with the opening of Old Rochester Regional High School in the Fall which will include Grades 7 and 8 in the set-up.

Kenneth Robert Mosakowski, student with the highest academic standing, presented his essay "The Years of Destruction". Kenneth spoke on the Civil War Centennial, which was the theme of the graduation program. In his talk, Kenneth stressed the destruction war brings, and the main issues of the Civil War, slavery, states rights and tariffs. He stressed Abraham Lincoln's struggle to abolish slavery, and after the war how he strived to help the reconstruction of the South. Kenneth said Mr. Lincoln was strongly opposed in his fight to help the South and was assassinated before he could accomplish his program. The young student ended his talk by asking several questions of the audience among which were "Is the Civil War Over?" and "How far have we progressed in the past 100 years?"

The program opened with the processional march with David Fuller, Grade 7, marshall, leading and seating the graduating class on the stage. Invocation was by the Rev. Frederick Condon, assistant pastor, at SS Martha and Mary Church, Lakeville. The graduates sang "Lead Me Lord" by Wesley with Mrs. Rhona Blasdale, director of music, in charge.

Raymond Calvin Daggett, class president, welcomed parents and guests and mentioned the theme of the graduating class, the Civil War Centennial. Young Daggett stressed that the people of the United States are urged to visit the historical sites and memorial points of interest of the Civil War. He mentioned maps and other information is readily available from the government.

Choric reading, "Lincoln, the Lonely, the Great", was given by the graduates with Rufus Allen Winsor announcer. Two numbers, "Battle Hymn of the Republic", and "Era of Peace", were sung by the graduates with Mrs. Blasdale directing, and Mrs. Ruby Lindsay serving as piano accompanist for these numbers and other selections on the program.

Harold M. Gay, principal at Rochester Memorial School, introduced the guest speaker as a man who at one time taught the principal, and then was his principal when Mr. Gay taught at Middleboro Junior High School. Henry B. Burkland, principal at the junior high school, Middleboro is a "great teacher, principal, education and my friend," said Mr. Gay. Mr. Gay said he as a student and teacher was a recipient of Mr. Burkland's wisdom, and his teachings of a good citizen and study habits, and therefore it gave him great pleasure to introduce Mr. Burkland whose topic was "Life's Compass".

Opening his talk to the graduates Mr. Burkland said he was directing his talk to the class and if the audience wanted to "listen in", that was fine. Comparing a compass and its four points, the guest speaker told the graduates to "find out facts," "love your fellow mankind sincerely," "honesty," and "trust in God and heaven sincerely".

Mr. Burkland told the graduates to "make up your own minds and think clearly without confusion". The public is too prone to let others make up our minds and he asked the class to listen to news but not opinions of commentators. In his second point of the compass, Mr. Burkland said the Greeks have 34 different words of varying degrees to indicate love. In this case love means to "get along with people" and the "greatest thing public schools do is to learn children to get along," said the guest speaker. When one hears the word honesty, one associates it with money because this country was "built by economics", said Mr. Burkland. One of the greatest disservices a person can do said Mr. Burkland is to "waste or steal an employer's time", for example, by extending the coffee break, being late for work or cheating on the time when you should be working.

Without trust in God and faith a person cannot face life, and Mr. Burkland mentioned mental hospitals with patients who for the most part do not have a "religious denomination". "There are only fifty-one percent of the people in the country today who belong to some religious denomination", said Mr. Burkland.

Concluding his talk, Mr. Burkland said "all education is not enjoyable", but the pupils must remember the teachers are trying to "prepare you for life".

Mrs. Allen P. Winsor, Jr., a member of the School Committee, presented certificates of promotion to the graduates as Mr. Gay read the pupils' names.

The Memorial School orchestra, with Mrs. Blasdale conducting, presented "Now Thank We All Our God" by Crueger. The benediction was given by Mrs. George A. Hill, Jr., pastor at First Congregational Church, Rochester Center. During the recessional the graduates sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic" while

LOCAL BOARD PRESS RELEASE

Although young men currently are not being drafted into military service until they are about 23 years old, they nevertheless must register with the Selective Service System within 5 days following their 18th birthday as required by law.

This statement was issued by C. Trafton Mendall, chairman of Local Boar 130, 21 South Main Street, Middleboro, Mass. in order to clarify what appears to be a misunderstanding on the part of many youths regarding the time when they must register.

Continuing on the subject of registration requirements, the chairman announced: "Failure to register, like failure to comply with other provisions of the law, may subject men to prosecution, or to induction out of turn and ahead of other men.

"After he registers, each man is required by law to keep his local board informed of any change in his address, or any change in his personal situation which might affect his liability to serve.

"A young man away from home at the time he is required to register may sign up at any local board nearest to him and his registration record will be forwarded to his home board."

Board 130 has jurisdiction over the towns
